✦ an opportunity to be among the first corporate sellers of cryptocurrency gift cards.

✦ a huge flow of potential clients from all over the world

✦ product flexibility: any denomination, any currency, ability to create a unique design tailored to a client's corporate style.

✦ the reputation of a seller of technological products that follows trends and offers innovative solutions.

What superpowers will your clients gain?

Wow-effect:

They will be gifting their team something new, unconventional, and unexpected. At the very least, it's cool, and they'll be eager to share it with others.

Satisfied team:

Cryptocurrency is better than a mug. Your client's team will receive technological gifts that offer new possibilities: they can convert them into money, pay for goods, or even invest and multiply.

Enhanced employer brand:

This will be talked about and shared with friends and family. The client can turn it into a media case study or leave a positive "buzz" that people will pass on to each other. In both scenarios, their employer brand wins.
